Word Families Flash Cards

Synopsis

Cat, hat, sat, fat, rat! How many words can your child make with the same ending sound? Hey, they all rhyme! These fun flash cards feature 54 word cards grouped by sound. Your child will love identifying the colorful pictures with the words, then finding new words with the same sound. Answer choices are on the back of each card. Your child will quickly learn that same-sounding words can have way different meanings.

Customer Reviews

It is a deck of 54 flash cards. One word on the front, with a picture to help the child guess, and then a list of words that rhyme and have the same endings, on the back of the card. Car - far, bar, jar. A straightforward and fun way to learn how to spell words.

Our little 21-month old twins love flashcards. They don't seem to get tired of using them although all the adults often get exhausted. This is a very good basic set, with clear images and different-sounding nouns to avoid confusion between cards. Our kids have been learning one word after another. It helps them in pronunciation, which is something that will require additional effort and time. They've mastered words such as Ball, Car, Cat, Dog and Fish. As I said, they don't get tired of the flashcards. We definitely got our money's worth several times over. The box fell apart quickly. We use an empty baby wipes container for these cards and others we purchased. I recommend these cards as a very educational item and also for entertainment. I found a lot of joy when my children learn new words.

These are great cards. my daughter just turned 5, she easily read most of the cards, however, some were challenging for her. The cards are colorful and intertaining enough for my daughter to sit down and work on them by herself. Because some of them are challenging, it keeps her interested. She learns spelling of the words, improving her reading skills. I like this item Adopted a 10 year old from Mexico who has now sat through 2 weeks of school all day, in English, totally lost because they have too many kids to teach properly. That being said, I'm teaching him English myself now. Many of these cards were too easy for him because he can already read in Spanish. However, those specific to English, like "ph" making the "fff" sound, as in elephant, & the various ways to pronounce the vowels were very helpful (long a versus short a). It helps that each card gives examples of different words that use a specific sound, because he picks out the words he knows & feels more confident. These held his attention quite well.

Very good learning tool. However disappointed that there are words on the back of cards. Would be nice if each word was featured on its own card. Also words on the back are in black and white, only one side is in color.

I bought these product to exchange languages and strengthen languages for some people I know. I ask detail questions about the pitures and gets more use out of the cards. But, good size image and detailed.

Our little one (16 months) has a much easier time with other brands of cars which use real pictures of items. She has a more difficult time distinguishing some of the more similar items in this pack due to the cartoonish nature of the pictures.

I just love these cards. They are appropriate and well designed to hold a child's attention
