National Geographic Readers: Penguins!

Synopsis

They waddled into stardom in National Geographic's March of the Penguins film. These guys are now nature's ROCK STARS! If you're age 5, you're probably as tall as an Emperor. But why do they throw up so much? March this way, and find out all! National Geographic supports K-12 educators with ELA Common Core Resources. ## Customer Reviews

By: T.K. Do you like Penguins? Penguins can be very interesting. In Penguins there are lots of facts, some amazing facts are that some Penguins lay at least 2 eggs and only one survives, a group of Penguins that live together is called a colony. There are 17 different species (kinds) of Penguins! The smallest Penguin is called the Fairy Penguin the biggest Penguin is the Emperor Penguin! I like Penguins because it teaches me about their lives and what they look like. I love all of the Penguins because they are all unique and special. I would recommend this book to people who like Penguins, animals, and facts!

I bought this book for my elderly mom. She always liked to read books and the newspaper but now is having difficulty reading and understanding a story since she has dementia. She has been able to read and understand this book.

We like everything about this book! The pictures are great and colorful, the text and succinct yet clear. You'll learn something new whether you are an adult or a kid.

My son's reading and comprehension skills have really grown since reading this series! The books are well written. They are balanced with knowledge, entertainment, and great photographs! Highly recommend!

I am very impressed with the National Geographic Readers. I think they are perfect for bringing information to young children at a level that is appropriate for them. They are very interested in the world around them and love non-fiction. These books have wonderful pictures and are well written.

This book is great for little ones. It will make learning fun for years to come for the grandkids. Thanks.

My 2 year old LOVES this entire series of Nat. Geo Readers... I have purchased about 25 different titles, "pre-readers" as well as Level 1 & 2 readers. She loves them all & will ask for certain ones. The "pre-readers" level books are extremely simple & great because she memorizes the words & can "read" it herself. We love the more advanced ones too, because there is more information to talk about. I have learned quite a few facts, myself!) What a great series. The price is reasonable & pictures are great. These are really getting her interested in nature, animals & science... I will continue to buy these as they are released, for our collection!

This book is cute! My cousin loved this book! I love it too! Penguins are so cute! I love penguin!
